

2017 Summer Nutrition Program Fact Sheet Macon County, NC

Overview of the Federal Summer Nutrition Programs for Children

- Many children receiving free and reduced-price meals through the School Breakfast and National School Lunch Program are at greater risk of hunger during the summer.
- Lack of nutrition during the summer makes students more likely to fall behind during the school year and experience health issues.
- Federally-funded Summer Nutrition Programs reimburse providers for serving free, healthy meals to children and teens ages 18 and younger in low-income areas during the summer.

Summer Nutrition Program Builds the Local Economy³

- Up to two meals or snacks are reimbursable at each site daily, and can be served seven days a week.
- If every student eligible for free and reduced-price meals received only lunch Monday-Friday (55 days) during the summer, $593,850 would have been brought into the county.
- For lunch only, $80,076 was brought into the county, with $513,774 not accessed.

² Percent need met was calculated using the sum of the ADA in July 2017 for all sites in a county divided by the number of students eligible for free and reduced-price meals during the 2016-17 school year.

³ Potential reimbursements are conservative estimates based on the lower Summer Food Service Program meal reimbursement rate ($3.77). Potential reimbursement is calculated as the number of eligible children x the rate x 55 serving days (based on weekdays, but weekend meals can also be reimbursed).
