

Principals Know: Innovative School Breakfast Works

Watch a video with these success stories and more by visiting NoKidHungryNC.org/Principals

"We went from a low-performing school to a 'B' school in just two years, and we attribute a lot of that to Breakfast in the Classroom."

Principal Jason Griffin
2017 NC Principal of the Year
Hertford Grammar School
Perquimans County Schools

"It causes such a calmer environment. Students go directly to their homeroom. There isn't any additional transitions. We increased our instructional time by 30 minutes each day."

Principal Lance Stokes
formerly at Jackson Middle School
Guilford County Schools

"To me, it's worth it. The process has changed the school. Scores have gone up, discipline has gone down."

Principal Jason Wray
East Bladen High School
